

Connecting Life and Careers lessons establish the connection between life satisfaction, career success, and decisions made during the school years.

Ideal for career transition courses, these twelve lessons help your students answer key questions such as:

- Have they considered their choices and actions today that can impede their successful transition into adulthood?
- Do they know the challenges they will face if their lives are sidetracked due to poor decisions they make now?
- Have they ever prepared a budget for a single parent raising children on a small income?
- What is their personal definition of success?
- What will be the impact of their career choice on their lifestyle?
- Do they realize the effect education will have on their life satisfaction?
- What are the rewards and sacrifices of different careers?

Each of the 12 Connecting Life and Careers lessons is:

- Engaging – motivating and relevant to students
- Downloadable – print one copy or as many as you wish
- Written to Standards – Freshman Transition Initiative standards are given for every lesson
- Easy to implement – no advance teacher preparation required

Connecting Life and Careers is available in reproducible PDF format on CD. Price: $159.
